

Relief for Toothache.

If the tooth has a cavity use liquid ammonia. Spray from medicine dropper directly into the cavity. Be very sure and not touch the tender gum. If there is an ulcerated root prepare a poultice of flaxseed meal, mixed with water. But in a small vessel and apply to the gum, covering the swelling. Spread on small pieces of linen no larger than the end of the finger, fold one thickness over the poultice. Renew just as fast as they cool. This will soften the ulceration and cause it to break in a short time. Have a second party prepare the poultice, if possible, as it must be done quickly. Keep hot water bottle outside of bandage.

WE MAKE NO ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN CONNECTICUT equal to The Bulletin for business results.

Just Because

you always HAVE waited for your flowers to take a decided start in the Spring it's no sign you always must as "BONORA" was made for this purpose.

We know it's new to this section of the country, and also that this space is too small to fully describe it, so we're going to ask you to send your inquiries to where they will be promptly answered.

We also sell, in connection with our large line of farming implements, the Planet, Jr., and Iron Age Horse and Hand Cultivators, Weeders and Hand Hoes. These small appliances certainly save a lot of time and money and perform the duties satisfactorily.

$4,000 FIRE LOSS IN WESTERLY

Engine House on Quarry Hill Destroyed—Civil Cases Continued on Friday—Improvements at Public Library—Marcus White Addresses Stonington Teachers—Norwich-Westerly Game Today.

By virtue of his office, Chief of Police Bransfield is the complainant in criminal cases brought to the Third district court. On account of the death of the chief's son, and the consequent absence of the chief from court, there were no criminal cases tried by Judge Williams Friday, the regular court day.

In the case of Joseph S. Grilla against Rosario and Giocchino Spinato, for alleged perjury in the embezzlement case, recognition was defaulted in each case and the action certified to the superior court.

In the liquor cases against Antonio Salameo, Charles Gabrielle, Luigi Lalla, Angelo Compato and Santo Tureno, in which their counsel, Judge John W. Sweeney, entered a plea in bar, a week ago, Judge Williams dismissed the plea. At Judge Sweeney's request exception was noted. These cases are assigned for trial next Friday.

In the liquor sales case against Oliver E. Gavitt and the liquor seizure case against Willis Almy, Judge Williams announced that they would be continued for special assignment next Friday. Attorney Agard favored continuance for two weeks, while Attorney Ladwidge for the respondents, argued for an earlier trial. A special day, other than the regular court day, will be devoted to the trial of these cases.

All civil cases were continued and court adjourned.

In addition to the improvements being made in the Westerly public library for the convenience of patrons, especially the addition of a reference room, and the adding of books almost daily to the circulating department, special attention is being given to the equipment of the reading room.

In addition to the many trade and scientific journals and weekly periodicals, there are now just fifty monthly magazines at the service of visiting readers, twelve having been added during the month. Besides all the daily newspapers of consequence in this section of the country are kept on file, as well as a number of foreign newspapers.

Because of lack of funds Rhode Island will not be represented at the fifth annual tournament of the New England Military Rifle association at Wakefield, Mass., June 26 to 31, inclusive. All the other New England states will have teams on the range. Adjutant General Sackett, who is the honorary range officer representing Rhode Island, states that no team would be sent from this state this year for the reason that no financial provision had been made for the purpose. Several hundred dollars would be necessary to maintain a team at the range for the week.

New features are to be introduced and added interest to the competition by the participation of the United States naval academy and United States army teams, both going to Wakefield to practice for the national matches to be held at Camp Perry in August. A special prize has been arranged in connection with the interstate match, the two service teams being entered.

Principal Marcus White of the Connecticut state normal school at New Britain delivered an address in the Congregational church in Mystic Friday afternoon. The sessions of all the schools in the town of Stonington were omitted that the teachers might hear Principal White's address on "Common Sense Education." The teachers in Pawcatuck made the trip by the Groton-Stonington trolley road.

An alarm was sent in from box 26, corner Chester and Granite streets, at 4:30 Friday afternoon for a fire in the engine house adjoining the blacksmith shop of the New England granite works on Quarry hill. Although the fire was not within the limits of the present fire district, the department made response and stretched a line of hose to the fire, which was a long distance from the nearest hydrant. When the firemen arrived the engine house was totally destroyed and the flames had spread to the blacksmith shop, the section nearest the engine house being completely burned but the fire was not permitted to spread farther.

Soon after the fire started one of the connecting pipes of the boiler burst, and allowed the steam to escape, preventing possible explosion of the boiler. The escaping steam had the effect of keeping the spectators at quite a distance and gave the firemen opportunity to combat the flames. The exact cause of the fire is not known, as the plant had been shut down for the day about twenty minutes when the building was in flames. The loss is estimated at $4,000.

The section where the fire occurred lies within the existing fire district, and at an early date hydrants will be placed therein, and arrangements made to give all possible fire protection.

Local Laconics.

A new canvas fence now encloses the Stonington baseball field.

Miss Frances O'Toole of Providence is visiting relatives in Westerly.

Steamer Block Island will leave Stonington Monday for the Palmer shipyard in Noank, where she will be given thorough overhauling.

Councilman William Culley has purchased a building lot in Elm street.

An armed watchman now guards the fish in the lake in Wilcox park.

The work of paving the Pawcatuck river bridge has been held up by a shortage of Arthur Brice.

Two Westerly young men who were recently admitted to the bar have decided to practice law in their home town.

Rosie Grilla, employed in the thread mill, had her left thumb severely crushed by being caught in machinery Friday morning.

It was an automobile from the Foster farm and not the Moss farm that smashed a part of the iron fence of the Pawcatuck river bridge on Thursday.

Rev. Father Kraus celebrated requiem mass at St. Michael's church, Friday, at the funeral of John Lynch. Burial was in the new St. Michael's cemetery.

The firemen are preparing for the annual inspection and parade of the Westerly fire department, Saturday, June 5. The members of the Alert hook and ladder company will appear in new uniforms.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Mann, who close a week's engagement at a local playhouse, have purchased the furniture and nearly all house furnishings for their summer home on the coast of Maine from a local concern.

In Westerly the Spanish war veterans will unite with the Grand Army men for the observance of Memorial day. The town has appropriated $25 for the purpose and the latter, to help defray the expenses.

Although the Bliven opera house is accessible, the annual town election is to be held in Hibernian hall. This year the election is merely a legal formality as there are no opposing candidates to the republican nominees.

The Norwich team of the Rhode Island-Connecticut league will play Westerly in the new home ground this (Saturday) afternoon. White Rocks will go to Wakefield and the Carolinas to Stonington. The game between the Westerly and Morgan high school teams at Riverside park will be called at 2 o'clock and the Norwich-Westerly league game at 3:45.

Nathan W. Littlefield of Pawcatuck, a former principal of the Westerly high school, celebrated his birthday Friday. He is an authority on judicial and historical subjects and was born in East Bridgewater, Mass., May 21, 1846. He was the democratic candidate for governor nine years ago and has since been in bankruptcy since 1898. He has served in the state senate and was a member of the commission for revising the judiciary system of the state in 1904-06.

LIVING GOLD OF WHEAT FIELD.

Sensations of a Ride Through the Miles of Moving Grain.

Take a look at the wheat field that has been brought up to perfection, as it stands. Yellow as gold, with the sheen of the sea, billowing from skyline to skyline like an ocean of gold, where the wind touches the rippling wave-crests with the tread of invisible feet. In California, in Oregon, in Washington, in Dakota, in the Canadian northwest, you may ride all day on horseback through the wheat fields without a break in the flow of yellow heavy-headed grain. No shade trees. No knobs and knolls and hills and hollows of grass or black earth through. From dawn till dark, from sunrise in a burst of fiery splendor over the prairie horizon to sundown when the crimson thing hangs like a huge shield of blood in the haze of a heat twilight—you may ride with naught to break the view between you and the horizon but wheat—wheat. It is like the gold fields. It goes to your head. You grow dizzy looking at it. You rub your eyes. Is it a mirage? The billowing yellow waves seem to be breathing the very sky. You look up. The sky is there all right with the black motes of a meadow lark sailing the azure sea. He drops liquid notes of sheer music down on your head, does that meadow lark; and that gives you back your perspective, your sense of amazing reality. You are literally, absolutely, really, in the midst of a sea of living gold. It is you and not the lark that is the mote. You begin to feel as if your special mote might be a beam that would get lost in infinity if you stayed there long; and as you ride on—and on—and some more on—and by and by come out of the leagueless, fenceless fields with an odor in your nostrils that isn't exactly like incense—it's too fugitive, too fine, too subliminal of earth. It is aromatic, a sort of attar of roses, the imprisoned fragrance of the billions upon billions of wheat flowers shut up in the glumes of the heavy-headed grain here. And that's the odor of the wheat.—Minneapolis Journal

The Touchstone of Ethics. The surest touchstone (of beliefs) is the ethical standard which, through inheritance, education and the experience of daily life has, as a matter of fact, become our standard. It is not for our happiness to believe any proposition about the nature of man, the universe, or God, which is really at war with our fundamental instincts of honor and justice, or with our ideals of gentleness and love, no matter how those instincts and ideals have been implanted or arrived at. The man or woman who hopes to attain reflective happiness, as he works his strenuous way through the world, must bring all beliefs, old and new, to this critical test, and must reject, or refuse to entertain, beliefs which do not stand the test.—President Eliot of Harvard, in his Essay on "The Happy Life."

It is not at all certain that President Taft's inflamed eye is the result of riding in the wind. The president has been trying very hard to see a way out of the tariff tangle.—Kansas City Journal

Mummies from Mexican Ruins.

"Mummified remains of beings who existed hundreds of years ago have been dug up during the work of excavating that has been going on in the old catacombs of Guanajuato, Mexico," said Dr. S. Burg of Baltimore. "The people whose bodies were discovered must have lived long before the settlement of the republic, and the finds have occasioned much interest among scientific men. Some of the bodies were decked with beads and ivory trinkets that were in vogue before the coming of the Spaniards, so that these people must have lived in that part of the country centuries ago. The mummies were discovered under an old cemetery while the excavations were being made by some prospecting miners."

Counting by Machinery.

A Swedish inventor has designed an apparatus for counting money and sorting the pieces into specified quantities. In the first place, money of various denominations is put into the machine and separated according to value, these being sent into various tubes. When in the tubes the coins can be taken out in lots of 10, 20, 50 or 100 pieces, at the will of the operator. The apparatus is capable of separating, counting and dividing into the lots before mentioned 72,000 pieces in an hour. One machine under one operator is able to accomplish in one day as much counting as could be done by 50 most experienced bank cashiers.—Dundee Advertiser

DR. King's Restoration Method

What It Does for Toothless People

THOMAS JEFFERSON KING, D.D.S.

Originator of Dr. King's Restoration Method for the natural restoration of teeth—originator of the King Safe System of Painless Dentistry and Inventor of the "Natural Gum" Set of Teeth, Etc., Etc. All rights reserved.

A PAINLESS PROCESS

An impression has gone forth that there is some surgical operation connected with this method of restoring missing teeth. Some people have written in to know if we bore down into the bone and put the teeth in on pegs!

Others have an idea we set the raw teeth into the sockets where the natural teeth were originally.

It is quite natural that some unthinking people would ask such questions, and in order that they may be fully answered we will state that there is no boring, no cutting, no implantation about this method, nothing about the work that is painful while it is being done or afterward.

Patients leave the office with these teeth in place and at once begin chewing meat, eating candy, toast, or anything else with the same comfort they would enjoy if every tooth in their head had grown there.

If we couldn't promise this and make good on the promise, the Restoration Method would not be a success. It would be no better than ordinary bridgework or partial plates.

WE ARE GENERAL PRACTITIONERS

All Forms of Dentistry Treated by Experts.

While the Restoration Method is our great specialty—we are general dental practitioners as well. From the simplest filling to the most intricate piece of porcelain work, our experts are at the service of the public.

Naturally we would do such work well, much better than it could be done in a one-man office, for the operators employed here are all men of the very highest skill. They need to be to do the Restoration work. Bunglers would not be tolerated in our office for a day, neither would dental students. We demand the finished craftsman, both at the operating chair and in the laboratory.
